

MUST TAKE BACK ALL THE STRIKERS

State Board Gives Boston Elevated Until Aug 19 to Comply With Their Mandate.

BOSTON, Aug. 7.—The striking employees of the Boston Elevated railway company won the last of their demands from the company when the state board of conciliation and arbitration tonight reported that all the men except those who had been accused of crime and not acquitted, should be returned to work at the old ratings.

The strikers had previously won practically all they requested. The board's report says this among others: "The company shall retire to the former positions and ratings such employees as were discharged from May 1, to June 1, for the reason designated as unsatisfactory service."

It adds that the men who are to be re-employed shall be returned to their employment as speedily as circumstances will permit, but all prior to Monday, August 19, 1912. The board suggests that the men be returned to the order of their seniority.

DEMOCRATIC LOVE FEAST

County Club Meets at Hampton Beach and Outlines Program.

The members of the Rockingham County Democratic club held a meeting at Hampton Beach on Tuesday afternoon that was largely attended.

Among those present was Samuel B. Folger of Rochester who will be the Democratic candidate for governor. President John L. Mitchell of this city presided, and in the absence of secretary Chauncey B. Hoyt, William L. Conlon was chosen secretary pro tem.

Before the routine business was transacted speeches were made by candidate Folger of Rochester, senator George H. Guntill of Raymond, and Dr. Charles A. Morse of Newmarket, and Mr. Hayes of Manchester.

It was voted to request Eugene H. Reed of Manchester to be the candidate of the party for member of congress from the first New Hampshire district.

A committee reported the following persons to constitute the county ticket:

For sheriff, George D. Marcy, of Portsmouth; for treasurer, Wallace Kerzer of Danville; for register of probate, Lewis Bragdon of Kingston;

BENEFIT OF TAG DAY
Directors of Sunset League Give Proceeds of K. of C. and Y. M. C. A. to Hospital.

A good move on the part of the directors of the Sunset league is the idea of helping out Tag Day for the hospital as suggested by the Herald on Friday evening, the proceeds of the game between the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus will be devoted to that worthy cause for which the management is exceedingly grateful.

This game should bring out a good number owing to the object and the good game that these two teams will put up.

For register of deeds, Albert F. Priest of Newmarket; for commissioners, Mark Scribner of Raymond, J. Edward Pickering of Portsmouth, Myron D. Richardson of Derry; for solicitor, either John T. Bartlett of Raymond or William E. Marvin of Portsmouth.

Among those present were John H. Elkins, Thomas Smith, P. J. Kennedy, Alimanda Churchill, Willie S. Day, Thomas J. Gile of Exeter, Col. Richard M. Scammon of Stratham, Dr. Charles A. Morse, Matthew Kennedy, Albert P. Priest of Newmarket, John W. Dearborn, O. H. Whittier, Meizer Dunbar, Fred Sanborn of Hampton, James Rowe of Brentwood, Otis H. Brown of North Hampton, Joseph Schurman of Greenland, Dr. G. H. Guntill, Walter J. Dudley of Raymond, Joseph Tilton of East Kingston, James B. Pickering of Newington, Mayor Daniel W. Badger, John L. Mitchell, H. Fisher Eldredge, Judge Calvin Page, Ex-Mayor, John W. Emery, John H. Dowd, J. Edward Pickering, John G. Parsons and William G. Conlon.

CHAIRMAN SAYS PRINCIPLES ARE THE ISSUES

Hilles Challenges Wilson to Explain Just Where He Stands.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Charles D. Hilles, chairman of the republican national committee, started the actual work of the republican campaign at headquarters here this afternoon. One of his first acts was to issue a long statement in which he challenged Gov. Woodrow Wilson to explain just where he stands in regard to the leading political issues. Mr. Hilles declared that the fight was between the republican principals and those of the democrats, and referred to the new personal distraction, declaring that from its very nature it must be transient.

In speaking of the contest over presidential electors in Kansas, Mr. Hilles asserted that should the supreme court's decision be adverse to the republican party, there would be no attempt made by President Taft to put his name under a different emblem in that state and get his electors by petition.

The chairman also mentioned the action of Col. Roosevelt in regard to the negroes and gave it as his belief that it was a bold move on the part of the former president and one that would have a far reaching effect. Just what he thought the effect would be Mr. Hilles was not prepared to say.

Senator W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, who it is believed will join chairman Hilles in the management of the campaign had a conference with Mr. Hilles tonight.

"I sincerely hope that I can have the assistance of senator Crane," said Mr. Hilles. "The time he can devote to the campaign may in some measure, however, depend on the condition of his health. I have not discussed with him whether he would go on the executive committee."

Mr. Hilles said that there would be no treasurer or advisory committee announced until next week.

GRAY MAKES CONFESSION

Says He Did Not Intend to Cut Throat of Mitchell Child.

LANGOR, Me., August 7.—A confessor that he committed the murder of Naomi Elita Mitchell, at North Cannel on the night of July 24, was made to sheriff T. Herbert White in the presence of witnesses this afternoon by J. Sherman Gray who earlier in the day was bound over to the grand jury on the charge of murder.

Gray told his story apparently without emotion, his only feeling seemingly being for his aged mother. Gray told how he had followed little Naomi Mitchell after she left the Mason store and how he enticed her into the woods, then took his jackknife and cut her throat. He stated that he did not cut her body until after he had cut her throat. He threw the knife away after arriving in Munroe.

He said he did not know how it happened to take his knife out of his pocket and after he cut her throat he wanted to kill himself but didn't know how to do it.

Gray wants to be confined in an insane asylum and says he desires to tell the whole truth and get as light a sentence as possible.

He concluded his statement by saying "I killed Naomi Mitchell by cutting her throat with a jackknife on the night of July 24."

When Gray said he wished to be confined in an insane asylum he added: "It would kill my mother if they should send me down below," meaning the state prison. "I would like to get my liberty again after they keep me a number of years. I want to see if I can't do better I believe I could."

"I want to tell the whole truth and get a light sentence as I can. If they keep me in all the time it is all up with me I will never see my home again until they carry me there in a casket. I guess it will go hard with me anyway. I don't know what my mother will think of it."

Gray said in his statement that he did not realize what he had done until afterward. About Sunday night, after the Wednesday on which the crime was committed, he learned the officers were seeking him through a conversation he heard in Munroe. He then decided to go back to Cannel up but lost his way and went to Brooks where he was taken.

The confession of Gray was a voluntary one. Upon being asked by the officers if he cared to make a statement, he replied he did. He appeared to be easier after he had confessed.

"Whenever I do anything wrong I always want to square it with everyone," he told the officers. He claimed that he had not intended to kill the girl, but was overcome by a sudden fit of passion. He stated that he did not run away from the spot, overcome by fear, but certain that no one had seen him, he walked away and hid, passing the first night in William Miller's barn in Carmel.

The confession will save the county the expense of a long trial. While there has been little doubt of Gray's guilt in the minds of those familiar with the case, the evidence against the man was almost entirely circumstantial.

HAVE YOU JOINED THE CAMPAIGN

To Exterminate the House Fly Nuisance?

Have you joined the Herald's campaign against the house fly pest? Have you secured one of the Herald's fly swatters? Everybody is doing it. The army of fly swatters now numbers some 5000 in this section.

Every home has from one to two of the fly killers, and the Herald is being praised on every hand for its enterprise. It is not too late to join and if you haven't been provided with the emblem, just phone 37, the Herald will do the rest.

The next thing in order after exterminating the fly pest will be to tackle the mosquito, and this fly swatting is only a starter. Now let all get busy.

SHOE OPERATIVES OUT ON STRIKE

Object to New Wage Schedule of a Dover Firm.

Twenty of the operators and lasters in the Ireland and Grafton shoe shop on Dover street are out on a strike and at present there are no prospects of their returning. Last week after talking stock it is claimed that a new and reduced schedule of wages was put in force and strong objection was made, especially by two of the operators. As a result, when the work on hand had been cleared up the two who had done the most talking in regard to the cut, were discharged. Five operators are out and fifteen lasters and they demand the reinstatement of the two discharged and the restoration of the former schedule of wages as the condition of their return to work.

Box 24 at the corner of Washington and Gates streets sounded at 10:40 this Wednesday morning calling the fire department to the double house on the corner of Gates and Munroe street occupied by the families of William Berry and a Mr. Sabine.

The fire was in a small oil of the part occupied by the Sabine family and was caused by the overturning of an oil stove.

The department responded promptly and the blaze was extinguished with only a slight loss. The house is owned by Miss Ann Noble and was formerly known as the Clark mansion.

DISCOVERS BAD MONEY BILL OF 1906 BOGUS

A new counterfeit of the twenty dollar gold certificate of the 1906 series has been discovered by the secret service and banks throughout the country have been warned against it. The counterfeit is apparently printed from photo-mechanical plates of crude workmanship, on two pieces of paper between which short pieces of heavy blue silk have been massed.

The portrait of Washington is so poor, acting chief Moran says that it should lead to the immediate detection of the counterfeit. It bears check letter "D," plate number 147 and the signatures of W. T. Vernon, register of the treasury, and Charles H. Treat, treasurer.

GAMES THIS WEEK.

Wednesday, P. C. U. vs. Y. M. C. A.
Thursday, P. A. C. vs. Riversides.
Friday, Elks vs. Knights of Columbus.
Saturday afternoon Elks vs. Riversides.

The P. A. C. finished second in the Sunset league, the official schedule of which closed last evening, when they defeated the Knights of Columbus in a pitchers' battle, in which Weare got the usual gilt edge support given by this team to their pitchers, and Travers lost the game by poor support, after allowing but three hits and these scattered in three different innings.

Weare was hit for two singles, a three base hit and a home run in the first inning which netted the Knight three runs, he tightened up after that and pitched a great game striking out eight men and allowing but one more hit.

Travers pitched a fine game for to steal second, was thrown out turning his ankle, but he stuck to the game. Driscoll struck out.

G. Woods was thrown out by Travers, Wilbur hit for two bases to right and Reardon juggled the throw so that it rolled to center and Wilbur scored. Nowick struck out, the ball going through Fitzgibbons and Newick reached first, Tredeick died out to Fitzgibbons.

Score, K. C. 3, P. A. C. 1.

Second Inning.

The K. C. were disposed of in short order, Flanagan, McWilliams and Travers striking out.

The P. A. C. tied the score in the second. Fisher walked, and moved up when Bill Woods was hit, with two men on Sperry singled, scoring Fisher and Woods in attempting to go to third was thrown out by Travers who took O'Brien's throw in Locke started for second and Fitzgibbons made a fine throw, but Reardon let the ball go through him and it rolled to center and Sperry scored. Weare fanned and Mattison fled out to Flanagan.

Score K. C. 3, P. A. C. 2.

Third Inning.

Neither side scored. Reardon hit to short and Mattison threw low to first and he was safe. He attempted to steal and was thrown out. Mate hit to Tredeick who made a pretty throw and got Jack at first. O'Brien singled over third, but Fitzgibbons struck out.

The P. A. C. were out in order, G. Woods on a fly to Driscoll, Wilbur hit in front of the base and was thrown out by Fitzgibbons, and Newick hit to Driscoll.

Fourth Inning.

Heffernan and Driscoll fanned and Flanagan fled out to Newick. Tredeick was out on a high fly to Flanagan, Fisher to Reardon and Woods to Mates.

Fifth Inning.

McWilliams fled out to Tredeick Travers fanned and Reardon was passed, but committed suicide by trying to steal second. Locke was the first man up and he hit to Mates. Weare was safe. McWilliams' fumble. Mattison singled to right and Weare reached third. Heffernan singled and in attempting Mattison overran second and forced Weare off third and McWilliams threw to the plate, they had him on yards, but Fitzgibbons dropped the ball and the game was over.

BITS OF SPORT

One of the New England pitchers who is slated for a berth higher up, the coming season is Joe Harrington, premier twirler of the Lynn club, which secured him two years ago when he was only a Wakefield high schoolboy. His record with the Lynn club for this season is something like 11 wins and 8 defeats, and his pitching has been quite up to the sensational form he showed in 1911, his first year in organized base ball, when among other achievements, he pitched two one hit games.

Tom Longboat, the Indian runner returned home Monday from a trip through the Maritime Provinces, during which he ran three races, and won them all. Longboat declares he is in better shape than he has been at any time in three years.

Elimination trials to select a team of Massachusetts Bay 18 foot knockabout to meet a trio of Narragansett Bay knockabouts for the Interstate races resulted yesterday in the selection of the Moselem II, H. N. Bloomfield owner; the Louise, A. E. Whittemore; the Cheroot, Ralph Hendrick.

The Narragansett Bay team comprises the Dorothy, the Hugl, and the Arrow. The championship series will begin today and end Friday.

President McAleer of the Red Sox, announced last night that the club has purchased two pitchers. Almsworth from the Youngstown club, and Watkins from Sharon, Pa. Almsworth is a right hander and Watkins is a southpaw. They will not report until their respective seasons are over.

BASE BALL NOTES.

The new schedule in the Sunset League, will begin this evening, with the P. C. U. and the Y. M. C. A., as the attractions. These series will be for the benefit of the teams, that is all of the receipts will go to the team instead of a part being set aside for the upkeep of the base ball field on the play grounds.

It is anticipated that a good number of fans will go to Concord Saturday to witness the first of the games for the state championship of the Sunset League. The P. C. U. will play the same team as in the last game here with Dandeneau pitching.

Umpire Howard will accompany the P. C. U. to Concord on Saturday and umpire the game.

Jim Travers will be the second string pitcher for the P. C. U. and with a team like that back of him, he would certainly make them go some.

BASEBALL

The Giants defeated the Athletics in a very interesting game of baseball yesterday morning on the South play grounds, by a score of 11 to 6. The game only went six innings as all of the Athletics pitchers were knocked out of the box. J. Dowd, who started the game, pitched ragged ball, passing about nine men in four innings, while L. Dowd, who succeeded him, did a little better by finding the plate, but when he did the ball either went as a hit or an error. On the whole, the team gave the pitchers good support.

The Giants gave Davis, the new recruit, fine support. Although Davis was wild at first passing four men in the third he soon calmed down with

Hans Wagner Likely to Lead
Pittsburgh Nationals Next Season

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—The cat is out of the bag according to rumor here, as to why Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh Nationals, is trading Tommy Leach, and "Lefty" when the present fighting manager of Leifield to Chicago in exchange for Philadelphia pitcher, according to a member of the Pirates, to this Pittsburgh place, Clarke told which Tommy Leach would get out of 1912 baseball. Dreyfuss, apparently of the Pirates ranks was absolutely necessary to prevent constant inter-dissensions in the club and save Wagner for the Pirates all season. Many fuss. Also it had to be done in order that Hans Wagner may be manager.

BOYS MAKE NEW RECORDS IN PLAY GROUND SPORTS

The sports at the play grounds on Tuesday afternoon for the boys in classes A. and B. were witnessed by a good number of spectators and they saw the kids do some fine work under the direction of Supervisor Howard.

Young Roland Smart, age 13 years, created a new record for class A. for the high jump, clearing the bar at 4 ft. 9 inches. Young Smart entered into the high jump for the first time, Tuesday and he is a natural jumper, who will do good work when properly trained.

In Class B., Elmer Gilmore, a nine year old kid, made a new record for the pull up with 16 times, two more than the record. This stunt is for the kid to hang at full length from the horizontal bar on pull himself up so that his chin comes level with the bar. Each time dropping back to arms length. If you don't think this is going some, try to do it yourself.

Class A.—Pole Climb.—Won by B. Rutledge, 5 4-5 sec; C. Thomas, 6 1-5 sec; F. Snow, 7 2-5 seconds.

Base Running.—Won by C. Gray, 17 1-5 sec; J. Berry, 17 3-5 sec; F. Snow, 18 seconds.

MORE MARINES SENT TO NICARAGUA

Washington, Aug. 6.—Marines from Panama have been ordered to Nicaragua to supplement the force of blue-jackets now in Managua guarding Americans and their property. The collier just in now, steaming from San Juan Del Sur, was today ordered to Panama to embark 350 marines for Corinto.

The Justin was at sea and nearing Corinto, when the radiograph was flashed to her. The vessel had left San Juan Del Sur Saturday. It will take her about three days to reach Panama and one day to take marines and equipment aboard. It will then take about four days to return to Corinto. The marines may not be landed when they reach Corinto. It was said at the State Department today, however, that it was thought prudent to have the force ready. The sending of the marine force is really a further compliance with the request of the Nicaraguan government. United States undertake to protect foreigners and their interests in and the American Minister at the Nicaragua.

HIGHEST PRICE FOR BEEF SINCE THE WAR

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Notwithstanding the dissolution of the National Packing Company the price of beef continues to soar to levels attained only in time of war. Prime corn-fed bullocks yesterday attained in the stockyards the topnotch price of $10.10 per hundredweight, a price not heretofore reached on this market since 1867, the period following the Civil War.

A three-carload lot of heavy black steers bred by A. W. Bragg of Tuscola, Ill., sold for $10.10 a hundred, the first time in the records of the Chicago market since the war that beef on the hoof, except in the case of prize-winning single animals, has sold as high as ten cents a pound. The same figure almost was touched in another deal, when cattle raised by the same feeder, but slightly lighter in weight, sold for $10.05 a hundred. The high prices commanded by two lots of steers was due, it was said, to the scarcity of choice cattle and the activity of competitive buyers to get hold of especially desirable steers. It was predicted, that the price would go even higher, one reason for which was the scarcity of range cattle.

Range cattle also set a new mark when the price touched $8.25. Last year's high figures was $7.50. While other prime-fed beefs reached $10.05, a single fancy animal sold at $10.25 in full trim of the Madison Northwestern grass steers made $8.10, and a load of Montana grassers brought $8.25, record prices for grass cattle in car-load lots. The advance measured from 10 cents to 15 cents over the close last week on the best steers, and other beef steers held about steady in the face of a good run here and liberal receipts of Southwestern grass cattle at Missouri River markets.

From this the dealers in cattle predict that there will be a further and distinct advance in the price of beef before the end of the week.

Receipts of cattle here today amounted to 23,000 head, all being disposed of at advances over Saturday's close.

Thirty thousand hogs were delivered here yesterday and there was an enormous demand, primarily from New York, Philadelphia and Boston, which sent prices to a top notch of $8.60 per hundred weight, the highest since November, 1910. Receipts were one-third less than for the corresponding day last week. A shortage in pork is predicted, hence the advance in prices.

Mutton and lamb held at about last week's closing prices. There is no reason for an advance in prices on the part of retail dealers, the supply being large.

Yesterdays receipts, compared with Monday of last week, in round numbers, increased 2100 cattle, decreased 14,800 hogs, and increased 5500 sheep. Compared with the corresponding Monday last year, cattle decreased 1600, hogs 2100 and sheep increased 4700.

The Detroit Journal says the beautiful young girl who gets through this summer without getting married or murdered is an exception.

The Philadelphia Ledger says its a wonder some enterprising patent medicine firm hasn't obtained one of those health testimonials from Banker Morse.

The Boston Record remarks that an expert on junk may be appointed by the city. Better have a state expert with authority to pass upon the old junk politicians.

The Chicago Record-Herald says in spite of vigorous talk and action on the part of municipal court judges, the accosting of respectable women by vicious, idle and worthless characters has continued all over the city and especially in the loop district. Complaints in letters to this paper, as well as observations by reporter, establish this fact.

No matter what else is said about the Boston Press no one would dare challenge their loyalty to the Massachusetts delegation in Congress. In reading the Boston papers one would think that the entire U. S. Senate comprised only Senators Crane and Lodge. No kick coming, brothers, but why not devote a line now and then to other New England members?

The Springfield, Republican says one reason why Mr. Taft has never been a lowering success as a partisan politician is that he has an awkward habit of admitting facts favorable to the other side. It is a habit creditable to his manhood and a testimonial to his intellectual honesty, however it may detract from his prospects. In his speech of acceptance, for instance, instead of claiming credit for his administration because of the present promise of good crops, he mentions the crops merely as something which ought to bring great prosperity to the people. This isn't the old-fashioned way of capitalizing prosperity for the benefit of the party in power.

The New York Tribune says it is not supposable that the opposition which was manifested in the Senate Thursday to the commemoration of the centenary of the peace of Ghent will prevail. But it may not be amiss to point out, briefly, its illogical and unreasonable character. The opponents say that it is of no more importance to have an official celebration of one hundred years of peace with Great Britain than to celebrate a hundred years of peace with Germany, France or Russia. That is absurd, because America was never at war with either Germany or Russia, and was never formally and officially at war with France, while it was twice at war with Great Britain through formal declaration. There is no anniversary to be commemorated with one of those other powers as there is with Great Britain.

The Toledo Blade states that the government has issued a bulletin giving information about the things that hide and wiggle in the water that comes up in "the old oaken bucket." It is for the instruction of farm people who in many instances, have been careless about the juxtaposition of pig sties and wells. There is, not much that is new in the pamphlet, the detection of clear and sparkling water having long ago been made known to the farmer, but the warning may be of service in stimulating farmers and putting in improvements, but allowed to slip by the farmer, however, to whom most of the material in this pamphlet is important news. These are the campers from the city. They come from places where some one else guards them from germs and dirt, and they are notoriously careless about their source of water supply. They mistake cleanness for cleanliness. They judge purity by the looks of things. No longer as the water is sparkling and cool; that is evidence in the eyes of many of them that the water is germ-free and life-giving. How far they are mistaken is to be measured by the great number of typhoid and malarial fever cases which campers develop after they get back to town.

The Boston & Maine railroad has begun its new fiscal year with excellent traffic offerings, both freight and passenger. Returns so far received on the road's aggregate business during the past month show total gross receipts of more than $260,000 above the corresponding month last year, when total gross reached $3,817,240. Shiftings of headquarters of the Boston & Maine's higher officers from its North Station to the enlarged South terminal continue. It is understood that within the next fortnight Treasurer Fisher and his forces will remove from the North to the South depots. Effective after Aug. 1, the freight claim departments of the Boston & Maine, the New Haven and the Maine Central and their subsidiaries will be located in the North Station under Howard P. Bidwell, freight claim agent, and George L. Winlock, assistant freight claim agent. A consolidated bureau is thus being established, largely for the purpose of effecting a more prompt adjustment of freight claims in the interest of the patrons of the various companies represented by the bureau.

Bird's Eye Views.

An endowed newspaper has been suggested. Somebody would be sure to get mixed in his vocabulary and refer to it as subsidized.

The best way to prevent a convention contest is to make proper arrangements in advance to admit nobody but his own delegates.

A roving woodsman like Clifford Pinchot must occasionally grow a little tired of sticking so close to that Chicago trail.

A politician should choose his enemies as carefully as he does his friends if he would win success.

A California man is using a vacuum cleaner to get the grasshoppers out of his fields. He must be a Yankee.

A Boston scientist declares that soap is a microbe spreader. The small boys are all ardent defenders of his theory.

Speaker Clark does not respond very enthusiastically to Mr. Bryan's assurances of love. The Baltimore convention is of too recent date.

Any way you look at it if you apply the test of reason to the third party movement it is an absurdity. Only confusion can come of it.

An Indiana poker player was killed for holding five aces. Mr. Beveridge's in behalf of a square deal may have to be directed more to regulating practice and less to theory.

When even the supreme court habitually develops dissenting opinions too much should not be expected for so comparatively imprudent an organization as an investigating committee.

Regulations to prevent telephone operators from flirting should not be necessary. Irritable subscribers and overworked employees are doing well to remain on formal speaking terms.

The Kaiser's old time reputation as a fire eater looking for trouble might become extinct were it not for Great Britain's frank anxiety concerning the intentions of Germany.

Even though the Mona Lisa has disappeared the changeless smile of subtle significance still survives in the portraits of W. J. Bryan.

One trouble with the men who seek to interview J. P. Morgan is that they all try to talk politics or finance instead of high art.

Students of the dance do not believe that the bull moose gallop will ever have the vogue of the turkey trot.

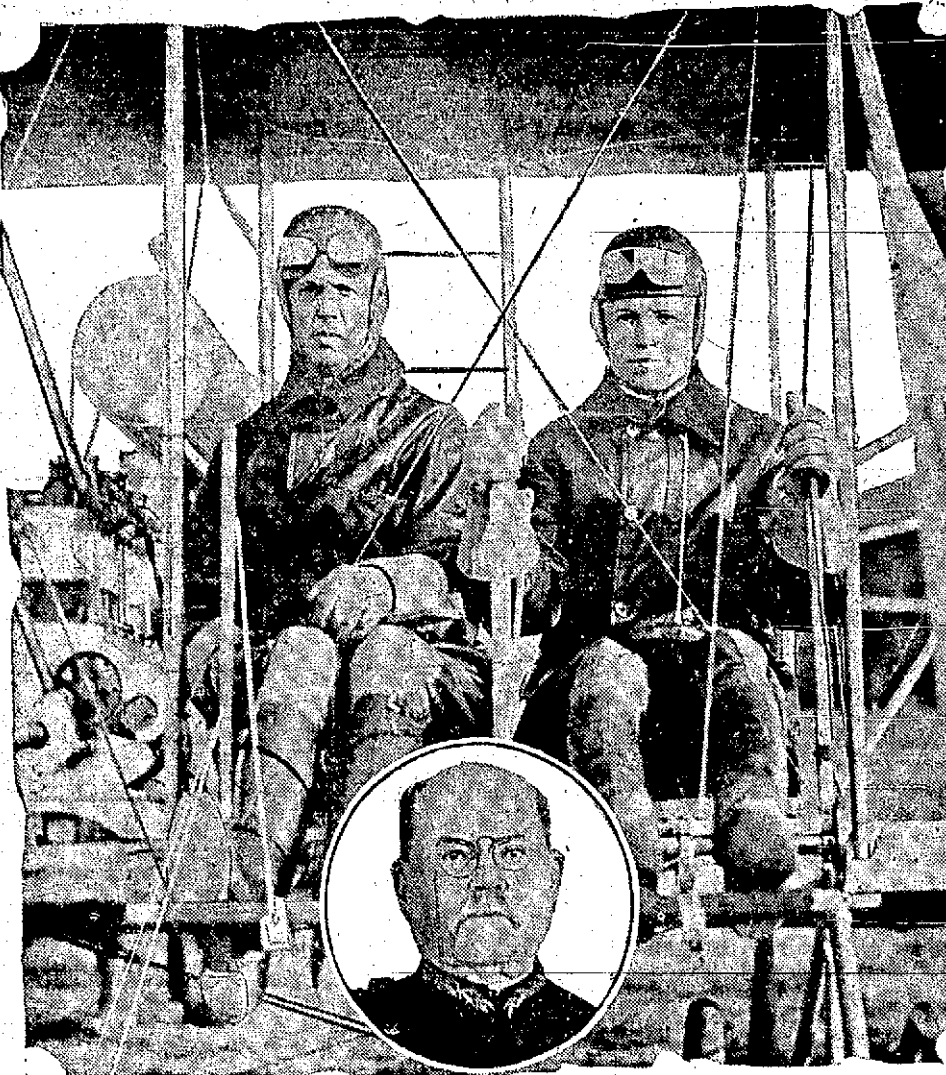

In spite of the accidents which from time to time appall the public, railroading is far from being as dangerous as aviating.

Current Topics.

The Rosenthal Murder
Although Herman Rosenthal was about to tell the district attorney of New York of corrupt relations between the police force and the gamblers, he was killed three weeks ago to night. Interest in the crime is still keen, for every day adds to the revelations of iniquity in the big city which it has caused.

The net results of investigation to date are: The arrest of seven men who were directly or indirectly connected with the actual murder plot, the indictment and arrest of a police lieutenant accused of having inspired the assassination, the identification

Commander of Army War Game and Aviators Who Will Participate In Extended Maneuvers.

Photos by American Press Association.

The big war game in Connecticut from Aug. 10 to 13 of 20,000 regulars and guardsmen will be noted for the first use of army aeroplanes in joint maneuvers here. Brigadier General Parker L. Bliss, U. S. A., commanding the eastern division, who will act as commander of the maneuvers, has decided to give the army machines a practical try-out, and the rules for their use will be such that the conditions of real war will be simulated. General Bliss is shown in the insert. In the aeroplane are Lieutenant Roy C. Kirtland (at the left) and Lieutenant T. DeW. Milling.

and close pursuit of two other members of the murder gang. In addition, however, there are allegations by the men, who it is charged stood between the police officer and actual killers, which point to a criminal combination between the police and certain vicious elements in New York.

One of these men has asserted that approximately two and one half million dollars are collected annually by the police from the gamblers for protection. This not unbelievable charge has not yet been proved. The public is not especially interested in that point, for it seems unfortunately to be taken, more or less, for granted, that there is graft in the police force.

What most seriously shocks the metropolitan community is the suggestion that members of the police force have engaged in murder by proxy, that a system of police terrorism has prevailed and the force that is supposed to stand between the public and the lawbreakers is itself the worst of all offenders against the peace and security of the people.

What wonder that this killing has so deeply stirred the crime-satiated populace of New York that after three weeks public interest in it is so keen as to give the highest news value to all its complacency and satisfaction for itself as the biggest and richest and liveliest city in the country. New York is not stirred by the fear that its wretched government, so long notoriously corrupt, is a menace to the lives of the innocent and the honest.—Washington Star.

A Penitent's Keynote.
The promises of Albert J. Beveridge are less convincing than his lamentations.

An ex-Republican office-holder, he spoke yesterday at Chicago to a convention made up largely of ex-Republican office holders. Himself in the discard with an honest and progressive Democrat in the seat that he formerly occupied, he addressed as Temporary Chairman, his acceptance a sine beat that hindsight can do for a has-been who takes precedence in the councils of the down-and-outs.

Mr. Beveridge's indictment of existing conditions, for which he and Mr. Roosevelt and all ex-Republican office-holders are fully responsible, is a sad restatement of Democratic platitudes for many years past. It is a confession of guilt by one already under conviction. It is an admission of the whole case.

This notable penitent says plainly that during the years of Republican ascendancy, when he and Mr. Roosevelt were all-powerful, we were ruled by "an inviolable government" of greed and graft. It made laws that "enabled particular interests to rob the people," it "gathered criminal riches from human health and life."

In the matter of promises, Mr. Beveridge is lavish indeed. He forces under the rule of Roosevelt a nation of twelve hundred millions "without a single day of bad business, without a single unfilled child." He will take the tariff out of politics—that is, out of the hands of the people—and leave it to a permanent commission. He will regulate child labor by national and not State law. He will make women's wages the same as men's. He will have old-age pensions. He will have votes for women.

Properly enough, the ex-Senator's speech is hailed as the "keynote" of a movement which has no higher motive than to restore to power the very ruffians that surrendered the country to an inviolable government of greed and graft.

The Crime of Crimes.

Theodore Roosevelt has been identified with the Republican party for thirty years. He is leaving it at a time when the party is not only less corrupt but when it is more responsive to public opinion than at any other period during those three decades.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1882 when he wanted to go to the Assembly, although at the election that fall the people of New York repudiated it by a majority of 200,000.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1881 when tens of thousands of honest, independent Republicans refused to support a tainted candidate like James G. Blaine. Mr. Roosevelt was not among them.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1886 when he accepted a nomination for Mayor from the bosses and corrupt corporations to defeat Henry George.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1890 when he wanted to be a Civil-Service Commissioner, although the Chairman of its National Committee was Matthew Stanley Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1897 when he wanted to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and obtained that office by the favor of Hanna, Platt and Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1898 when he wanted to be Governor of New York and was willing to help save Platt's corrupt machine in return for the nomination.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1900 when Platt and Quay nominated him for Vice-President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1901 when the bosses interposed no objection to his nominating himself for President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 when it merely permitted him to foist William H. Taft upon the country as a proxy.

The Republican party would have been good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 if it had nominated him for a third term, and Mr. Roosevelt would have welcomed the support of every man and every interest now supporting Mr. Taft.

A new party is necessary, not because the Republican party is hopelessly corrupt or hopelessly reactionary but because the Republican party refused to nominate Mr. Taft. That is the crime of crimes. Because of that iniquity the Republican party must be destroyed.—New York World.

DELEGATE H. E. SLAYTON INJURED

Hovey J. Slayton of Manchester and family had a narrow escape from a serious accident in Concord on Monday afternoon. As it was Mr. E. M. Slayton had his right arm caught and crushed to some extent, and Mrs. Hovey J. Slayton had the little finger on the right hand cut and bruised. The car was badly damaged. The rear axle was broken by the force of the impact with the telephone pole, the right rear wheel crushed, the machine lamp carried on the rear torn off, and the side panels scratched and marred.

FROM "THE OLD NIAGARA"

'Twas noon. A dreamy August heat pervaded all the village street; The horses dozed upon their feet, The people dozed as well; A drowsy not the loudest sang; When, clear and slow with vibrant clang, From out the lime-washed belfry rang The booming fire bell:

"Come, Deluge One! Come, Torrent Three!

Come, Old Niagara, brave and free! Come, fire lads of each degree! Where Duty calls, and Fame! Come on, come all! Come friends, come foes!

Come Water Witch and Neptune Hosiery!

O, come! Across the river glows Judge Buscom's place, aflame!"

Now, "Fi-urr! fi-urr!" arching cried; The village clamored; horses shied; The clerical pen was cast aside; The hammer down was flung.

How swiftly donned were shirts of red! His leathern helmet upon his head, How gallantly each hero sped To man his engine tongue!

Then, swept along by shouting hands, On every rope a score of hands, The foremen blaring wild commands With sundry oaths, belike Black Deluge with her seasoned crew, Green Water Witch, at painted nose, And Old Niagara, tried and true, Came roaring down the Pike.

Brave Old Niagara! our boast, And over rest when needed most! We humped her through the panting host!

With lusty heave and tug, Red Torrent's race was quickly done; We "jumped" the Neptunes on the run, And, barely passing Deluge One, Achieved the water plug!

—Arthur Guiterman, in Scribner's.

THE TRUE MEASURE OF LIFE

We live in deeds, not years; In thoughts, not breath; In feelings, not in figures or the dial; We should count time by heart throbs when they beat.

For God, for man, for duty—He most lives, Who thinks most, feels noblest, Aots the best—

Life is but a dream unto an end; that End Beginning, man, and end to all things, God.

—Bailey.

If this sentiment be true, and who shall doubt it—there indeed does it within the power of every human being to make his or her life worth while. If our lives are really measured by our deeds, rather than the passing of years, then the fullness of the measure lies with us and if our deeds count for or against us in the final hearing before the great Judge, Man's destiny is, to this extent, in his own hands, for it lies within our power—as free moral agents to make out deeds either good or evil; to do the things that will bring unhappiness to those about us or to do the things that will brighten life, both where and when we can. The responsibility of it is great but we should at least try to be equal to it. Mere breathing is not the sole purpose of our being, but the thoughts we think count much for good or evil and we should try to think of the brighter and better things of life, not that we should shut ourselves away from all evils or evil-doers, but we should shut the evil out of our lives and use our knowledge of it to cure it in others. The evil-doer is often the victim of circumstances and to help him we must know him, his thoughts and his motives and while we should try to live true, clean lives, we should not forget the temptations that come to all, nor should we fail in helping those who are even weaker than we, to resist them. If we are to count time by heart-throbs, then assuredly should they beat "For God, for man, for duty" thus giving us the assurance that reward will come when the great battle has been won and the record of our lives has been finally made up.

JACK TO HAVE NEW CAP

Naval Board Concludes to Change Uniform of Sailors

Washington, Aug. 6.—Bluejackets without the flat round cap and the half-yard wide rolling collar, the uniform of the American navy sailor since the birth of the republic may be found aboard the battleships and cruisers in the future.

A naval board has about concluded that both the flat cap and the broad collar interfere with a sailor's work on shipboard. So a round narrow-brimmed cloth hat and a regular miner's flannel shirt are proposed for wear aboard ship. To save the traditions, however, the picturesque old cap and collar probably will be retained as the uniform for the Jack-tar when he goes ashore.

SHOULD NOT RETURN TO THE OLD LOCAL POLITICAL DAYS

No doubt the men at the head of the public works department in this city are doing their level best and are making good progress but, nevertheless, there is much dissatisfaction and there is a strong feeling that political demagogues and politics is the cause. No one will deny, however, that the fact that the city has for a number of years been without a capable engineer. The present acting superintendent of the water works is, it is claimed, making good but other departments are going backwards. It is unfortunate for the taxpayers that this board, from its origin, has not in the opinion of the public made good. It will be more unfortunate if the old political days should return. The Herald hopes that the board can redeem itself.

BUS LINE DISCONTINUED

The Portsmouth Bus Line, which has been running between Lang's Corner and North Rye Beach, makes its last trip on Wednesday. The owners, two hard-working young men, have tried to make things a success but they have not received proper support.

GOOD NEWS

The people of this city will be pleased to learn that the work of laying brick on the Islington street job was commenced this Wednesday afternoon. The electric car leaving Market Square at 12.05 o'clock this noon was run over the new piece of track.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Portsmouth Should Wake Up.

Editor of The Herald:

In last Friday's Newmarket Advertiser appeared an article copied from the Portsmouth Herald, entitled "Boston Staring in the Way of New England's Progress." I admit she is doing so and always has, but this time has now arrived when Portsmouth and its surrounding country should assert itself and take advantage of its own natural resources. Portsmouth has a harbor deep enough to float any vessel that will ever be built and with the Isles of Shoals off its mouth as a sentinel to protect it makes it the most invincible fort on this continent.

With a railroad running to Nashua and on to the Great Lakes brings Portsmouth in direct line with the traffic of the world. Boston is trying hard to make her cove of a harbor a great shipping port, but as she has nothing to ship, nor is she in line with the great producing sections of the United States so is trying to make her harbor a winter port for Canada and then ask the United States to dig out her starting pond of a harbor, and protect the same for the benefit of a foreign nation. England does the most of our ocean transportation. Shall it do it across our own territory and on the Lakes? Every country should transport its own produce across its own territory. I could point out many more more of the many resources of New Hampshire from which Boston derives great benefit but in this article I have only mentioned Portsmouth harbor and its connections.

MANY EUROPEAN ACTS

With the Great London Shows

Howe's Great London Shows Consolidated will appear in this city August 21, afternoon and evening.

While the trained wild beasts are a great feature, the regular line of acts is fully up to a high standard.

The wonderful Zanretta Family are a surprise and have no equals in the circus world. The Riding Lowmendes are among the big acts; the Bertik Troupe, flying Juanita Twins, the Brone Troupe of acrobats have no peers. The Kentucky menage and High School horses are seen only with this show. The clowns are funny, the gymnasts clever; the elephants numerous and the menagerie is large and the Glasgow Prize Team a great feature.

A free street parade will be given, which will leave the grounds at ten o'clock on the day of the performance.

ROOSEVELT MAKES HIS CONFESSION OF FAITH

Addresses the National Progressive Convention and Presents His Ideas.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Theodore Roosevelt made his "confession of faith" today to the National Progressive convention. The former President struck out boldly into new ground, advocating measures which he said frankly would be denounced as either socialism or anarchy. The delegates listened to his speech with understanding that they must either adopt a platform substantially in consonance with his views or look elsewhere for a nominee for the presidency.

These are the conspicuous points in the Roosevelt program:

Recall of judicial decisions at first advocated by Col. Roosevelt in the spring campaign and for which he was subjected to wide criticism. Col. Roosevelt now advocates its extension to apply to federal courts as well as state courts. He favors the establishment of a machinery to make easier of amendments, both the national and state constitutions, especially with the view of prompt action on certain judicial decisions.

Workmen to Share Profits.

Use of the government to assist workmen to become part owners of the business in which they are employed.

The government system should be shaped so that "the public servant when he cannot conscientiously carry out the wishes of the people, shall at their desire leave his office and not misrepresent them in office." Col. Roosevelt did not suggest the method by which he would bring this about, and there was much speculation as to whether he had in mind a fundamental change in the American system of government. In some quarters it was interpreted as a declaration in favor of extension of the recall to include legislative, executive and judicial officers of the national government, from the president down.

New Interstate Commission.

Control of the trusts through retention of the Sherman anti-trust law and establishment of an interstate industrial commission to regulate industrial corporations as the interstate commerce commission regulates railroads. Corporations which come voluntarily under this commission and obey its orders to be immune from prosecution under the Sherman law. Those which fail to do so to be subject to prosecution and if the prosecution is successful thorough dismemberment, the constituent parts not to be allowed to do business save under conditions laid down by the industrial commission.

Conditions determining monopoly prices to be controlled where these concerns deal with the necessities of life.

WHAT A GIRL LOOKS FOR IN A MAN.

The thing which we discuss, if at all, with too little frankness is the strength of purity in a man. For whatever other strength a man may have, this would seem to be the highest type of strength, and it is the supreme strength that the normal woman longs for. Yet this is the very thing of which we speak least and are generally absurdly shy of mentioning; so much so that many a girl does not even know whether the man she consents to marry has this higher type of strength.

You may argue backward and forward about a man's stronger temptations; you may argue that the average girl is not capable of judging of what these temptations are, and so is not qualified to judge of a man's weakness when he fails; but the old demand for strength is still there, and cannot be put aside by this or any other argument. It is still strength that the girl expects, and strength that the finest type of girl demands.

Again, you see, we came back to the same point. There is at bottom no other way to a true woman's favor than by strength. This is not my preference, nor yours, nor a mere opinion; it is a great fundamental law of nature, one of the underpinnings of the world we live in and the civilization we enjoy; strength manifested in a hundred ways, manifested as health, bravery, courage, daring, courtesy, kindness, gentleness; manifested in original and brave thought; in honor; above all in bodily purity and moral and spiritual force.

It is all this that the normal girl expects; and according as she finds it or fails to find it is her happiness made or marred.

By Anne Bryan McCall, in the Woman's Home Companion.

EXETER LETTER

Mrs. Lucy B. DeMerritt was buried Tuesday at Pawlet, Vt., having died in Whit Plains, N. Y., last week at a hospital there where she underwent an operation. Mrs. DeMerritt was a respected woman of Exeter and for several years conducted a students boarding house on Spring street, which a few years ago she leased to her son, John DeMerritt, of Tamworth, and two sons J. Frank of New York, and Eugene, a civil engineer, stationed in the west. She was a native of Pawlet and the funeral services was held in the old church at that town.

There is to be more base ball between the married and single men of the Swampscott club and a different lineup will probably be presented at the next game, which will be played Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The first series has been completed and it was won by the single men who won two straight in a series of the best two in three. The benefactors have been practicing on the campus daily and they intend to make a better showing in the next series.

In disposing of her property, both real and personal, which amounts to about $1500, Jennie R. Harvey, who died last week makes many bequests to her friends and relatives and public institutions are also remembered. Of the latter the Exeter Cemetery Association gets $100 for the care of her in the sum being given in trust, and the First Congregational church of Exeter is also a beneficiary by receiving her hall clock. Exeter chapter D. A. R. are given her piano.

Some of her relatives who come in for her quaint and valued household effects, are her brother, Dr. E. H. Harvey, Pittsfield, who is given a pair of cherished oak chairs and also a Chippendale chair. Harvey Hilsley of Ames, Ia., and Helen A. Russell of Lenoire, Ark., are beneficiaries from afar who are given silverware and a gold watch and chain. To Thomas H. Dickey, Dorchester, Mass., she directs the executors to deliver two Chippendale chairs which were in her possession and which were once the property of her grandmother. Mary Blake of Hampton Falls is given her grandmothers chair, and Josephine Dow and Martha Young are given china-ware. Many other friends and relatives in this section are given remembrances in the form of household effects.

The rest of the property, both real, personal and mixed, is given to Josephine Dow, and John N. Thompson both of Exeter, in trusts for the benefit of Helen I. Russell. This is to be paid to her $200 per year until one half of the amount is paid and the other amount is given in trusts to Dr. I. M. Morse and to the First Congregational church of Exeter. The executors named are Josephine Dow, and John M. Thompson both of Exeter.

Miss Harvey lived in what is known as the Garrison house, one of the old Exeter landmarks, and was wealthy in antiques and historical collections. She was for a period of twenty five years teacher in one of the Exeter primary schools.

Lillian Wetherell, daughter of Dr. A. S. Wetherell, entertained a party of friends by a bridge whist party at the golf club house on the Jady Hill links Tuesday afternoon.

The Frank E. Robbins Company, U. R. K. P., will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening of next week and complete arrangements for attending the annual encampment, which is to be held in Manchester, August 30, and 31, and September 1 and 2.

The company will undoubtedly be well represented on this occasion.

SENATE SPEEDING UP WANT TO GET THROUGH

Washington, Aug. 6.—Although it took the Senate a quarter of an hour to get a quorum when it met at ten o'clock this morning and although it was necessary to send the sergeant-at-arms out to bring in the absentees, it was plain that the upper chamber is making ready to "speed up" and close the session.

Senator Borah asked for unanimous consent on Saturday to take up the Department of labor bill and vote on it that legislative day. Senator Simmons urged that Borah combine with that bill the cotton and Panama Canal bills. Senator Sutherland objected, and Senator Borah announced that he would on Saturday move to take up the bill all the same, whereupon Senator Bailey said he thought the Senate ought to consider the constitutional amendment provided for a single term for the President of the United States.

"All of which," commented Borah, "will make a very interesting morning."

Then Senator Kenyon offered an order which he will press tomorrow, discharging the Committee on Interstate Commerce of the bill which would amend the Sherman Act by making jail sentences imperative as to individuals violating the law.

No new bills were introduced today and it is apparent that everyone wants to wipe the slate as clean as possible, and go home. Barring an actual deadlock over the battleship question—which Washington does not really expect—it is possible for Congress to conclude by the end of next week.

GAMBLER ROSE MAY FAIL WHITMAN

New York, Aug. 6.—Information has reached Dist. Atty. Whitman that his star witness in the Rosenthal case, "Jack" Rose, is about to become a recalcitrant witness. Rose, it is understood, is in possession of a promise of immunity which he feels satisfied will protect him in any action he may take in the future.

It is not in the district attorney's line of knowledge that Rose will recant the confession he made, to the effect that Lieut. Becker, alarmed because Herman Rosenthal was to give the district attorney evidence of grafting on Becker's part, ordered the assassination of the gambler.

The proposition is that Rose will stand pat on what he has told, maintain that his knowledge goes no further, and let the district attorney struggle along with the case he has in hand, bolstered up as it may be by corroboration which may be gathered through Burns' detectives or other outside sources.

New Counsel Expected for Rose.

Thus far the only specific evidence the district attorney has of police grafting was furnished by Rose and the corroboration in a small measure by "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vallon. Rose has failed to deliver the list of gamblers who he asserted paid protection money to Becker. He has failed to bolster up his statement that police graft from gambling amounted to $600,000 a year.

A rumor is in circulation in police circles and in the underworld that Rose will soon have new counsel. James M. Sullivan, who has been acting as legal adviser to the gambler, announced when he was first retained, and had persuaded Rose to confess, that he expected to be superseded by "eminent counsel." The time approaches for this "eminent counsel" to appear in the case.

Rose has no money. His brothers and other relatives are not wealthy. Nevertheless, the rumor persists that there is plenty of money at Rose's disposal, provided he proceeds no farther than he has gone in the way of aiding the district attorney.

Death Threats to Gambling Trio.

Death threats have been repeatedly sent to "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vallon, who have made confessions showing alleged relations between the police and gamblers, and all three prisoners are in a state of panic over fears that their lives may be taken.

The three gamblers say that they expect to be killed if they are taken through the streets to court. It is reported that the prisoners have been intimidated by emissaries who have been smuggled in the West Side Jail.

The search today for the two gamblers, Harry Horowitz and Louis Rosenzweig, is being prosecuted in several parts of the country.

The State's attorney is also anxious to capture Sam Schepps, who, according to the confessions of "Bald Jack," paid over the money to the gunmen after the killing. Schepps received the money, Rose says, from Webber.

Worry Cases Policeman's Suicide.

Except that he might have been temporarily deranged by brooding over the accusations against the police, growing out of the revelations in the Herman Rosenthal murder case, companions of mounted policeman James Tobin of College Point, are unable today to assign a reason for his committing suicide by shooting himself in the head while he sat in a table in the Gieb & Hinkley Hotel, at 4th av. and 19th st., College point, early today. He died in the Flushing Hospital from a wound in the head.

Since the charge was first made that the "system" had been the instigator of the murder of Rosenthal, Tobin talked of nothing else but the slaying stoutly defended the Police Department. He lived with his wife at 122 17th st., College Point. He had no children. His home life was happy. Mrs. Tobin said that when he went on duty he was happy and talked about going on an excursion trip with her at the end of the week. He went to the hotel about 30 minutes before it was time for him to end his tour of duty. He tethered his horse in the carriage shed. He had a drink. Mrs. Tobin, wife of the proprietor, said good night to him as she was going upstairs. He did not answer. She was near the top of the stairs when she heard a shot. She found him insensible, his revolver on the floor and he died at the hospital shortly after.

GOOD WIRELESS WORK

Newspaper despatches amounting to 1,800 words were recently sent direct by wireless from San Francisco to Honolulu, a distance of 2,100 miles, opening the "line" for commercial business. From time to time, under favorable conditions, wireless stations in San Francisco had previously picked up government stations in Key West, or off the coast of Maine, and sometimes in Japan, but there had never been any sending of commercial messages. The company will begin at once to build stations similar to those in Honolulu and San Francisco, either on the Midway Islands, which is the nearest land between Hawaii and the Orient, or on some point on the Aleutian Islands. It is planned to send commercial messages from California to Japan within two years.

James M. Sullivan thinks everybody is crazy about her.

SLEEP

Did you, sleepless one, ever try a dish of GRAPE-NUTS and CREAM just before bed?

Sure you never did or you wouldn't train with the "sleepless squad."

It's a Bad Practice to load up the stomach with a promiscuous variety of rich, indigestible food at night because it "tastes" good.

Strength Without Bulk is a requirement of an ideal food for the fast bite before going to bed. The food that is concentrated so that a sufficient amount for all purposes will not distend the stomach; the food that is practically predigested so the organs can, without undue effort, absorb it wholly; the food that contains the tissue-repairing and energy-making elements from clean field grains—that contains the Phosphate of Polash, which combines, by vital process, with albumen to repair the gray matter in brain and nerve centres—that's

Grape-Nuts

Try a Dish—about four teaspoonfuls with cream, and a little sugar if desired, eaten slowly before retiring, if you're hungry, and note how well you sleep and how fresh you feel in the morning.

KITTERY POINT

What Is Happening In the Harbor Town:

Quite a large number of submarine mines have recently been planted near the mouth of the harbor and they will doubtless be exploded when all preparations are made by the government officials in charge. Meanwhile it concerns the boating fraternity more or less to know just where they are located and when they are to be touched off.

Sailed, schooner Alma, British, Apple River, N. E. for Boston; steamer Charles F. Mayer, for Baltimore. Mrs. Everett Swain and child have returned from a visit to relatives in Freeport, Me.

Mrs. Frances Smith of Portsmouth has been the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Anna J. Barden.

The small number of yachts visiting this harbor during the present summer as compared with other seasons, is a matter of frequent comment along the water front. This condition is, however, by no means confined to Portsmouth harbor. The captain of a large New York yacht recently stated that in his opinion not over one-third the usual number of cruising yachts were put in commission this season. It is also remarked that the number of small coasting vessels is smaller this summer than ever before known on this part of the coast.

Wesley Randall has entered the employ of Frisbee Brothers as clerk.

Herbert Tobey, Jr., has resumed his duties in the navy yard boat shop after a vacation.

Miss Melissa Fletcher of Portsmouth is the guest of relatives in this place.

Chester Pierce enjoyed a trip to Portland on the tug Mitchell Davis Monday.

Miss Bernice Irish is the guest of relatives in Dover.

There will be a choir rehearsal at the Free Baptist church on Thursday evening.

Col. C. C. Martin of New York, a guest at the Champernowne hotel, has his duties in the navy yard boat shop York parties.

Mrs. Melissa Patch has been entertaining her granddaughter from Portsmouth.

A DECADE OF STATE GROWTH

A chart recently issued shows the growth of the different states of the American Union from 1900 to 1910. The most interesting thing about it is the light it throws upon the trend of population to move along certain lines. The whole nation during the decade named exhibited normal expansion in every particular, yet certain states attracted a larger share of the floating population than others. These states may not be sectionally grouped, although it is true that the younger states, generally speaking, give the best account of themselves. North Dakota, Montana, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Wyoming, California, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma, all show gain of more than 50 per cent over the previous ten-year period. The states that made gains of over 30 and less than 50 per cent were: South Dakota, Utah, Colorado, Florida and New Jersey. The last named state, unquestionably profited largely from the overflow population of the two great cities on its borders, New York and Philadelphia.

The states that gained more than 20 and less than 30 per cent in population were: Texas, Arkansas, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. It is pointed out that in Texas, Arkansas and West Virginia the growth in population is mainly agricultural, while in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts it is mainly industrial. This is also true of Rhode Island and Connecticut. Perhaps a better way to put it would be to say that in the three states that named the gain is mostly rural, while in the others it is mostly urban.

One of the great surprises of the census of 1910 was the failure of some of the great middle western states to maintain their old ratios. Thus, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio were classed with Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana—states of the old South—and given increases of not less than 10 nor more than 20 per cent, while Iowa, Missouri and Indiana were classed with Kentucky, Tennessee, Maryland, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire, and given less than 10 per cent increase. Some of the middle western states showed actual losses in their agricultural districts. The truth about the matter is a strong current of immigration had been moving steadily from the middle western and some of the New England states during the entire decade toward the Southwest and Pacific Northwest and western Canada, but so quietly as hardly to be noticeable save by those who gave it special attention. There is no loss anywhere, simply a redistribution, and the present decade was in all probability a satisfactory adjustment that will be satisfactory all around. Even now, as has been pointed out in these columns, the eastern states in general and New England in particular are attracting western farmers in considerable number, while there is

SYSTEMS OF MANAGEMENT

Scientific shop management in the manufacturing establishments of the war department and the navy department has received a setback in the report submitted by the senate committee on education and labor relating to such systems. The committee expresses the opinion that the systems contain many excesses which are oppressive to workmen and have a tendency to reduce the employee to a mere machine, depriving him of his self reliance and in the long run reducing government employees to a condition of unresisting vassalage. It will be recalled that the secretary of war was unqualifiedly in favor of the "Taylor system" of shop management, although at the time of his approval of the system to the various arsenals there was vigorous protests on the part of labor unions. The Watertown arsenal was made the experimental station, and the theories of Mr. Taylor in so far as they could be adopted were put in force. The results were claimed to justify the further extension of the system to other government establishments. It was claimed that there was an increase in the efficiency of manufacture and material reduction in cost. It was believed these results were obtained without endangering the interests of the working men. The labor unions have made a vigorous fight against this particular system, and one of their strongest arguments is that the machine shop of the Midvale Steele company, in which Mr. Taylor perfected his system, has abandoned most of it as an unprofitable method of management.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 6.—The partition filed by opponents of boxing in the hope of bringing the matter before the voters of the country has been rejected by the county clerk who found many of the signers were not registered voters. Night promoters now believe that there will be no more agitation against the sport and that fights can be conducted without interference from the authorities.

San Juan del Sur, N. C., Aug. 6.—The American bluejackets and marines who were landed from the United States gunboat Annapolis, at Corinto, on Saturday night, and who are now in Managua, have ordered General Mena, former minister of war, and now leader of the revolutionaries to deliver up immediately the lake steamers owned by the railroads which are run by an American company.

Mexico City, Aug. 6.—Revolutionary Sierra Juarez Indians in Northern Oaxaca have surrounded a federal detachment near Ixtion, according to reports reaching here this morning. Unless the troops can cut their way out of the fray they probably will fall victims of torture, because it is reported here that the Indians have suspended personal guarantees.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—The only theatre in Chicago conducted by Negroes, for negroes, is to pass into the hands of whites. The playhouse, which is located in the heart of the black belt on the south side, was opened some years ago by the late "Bob" Mott, one of Chicago's picturesque negro characters.

He said America should be the first to recognize the young republic and he explained historical analogies between the two countries.

WON RUBBER GAME

York Beach Proves Its Superiority Over East Rochester

York Beach on Tuesday defeated East Rochester in the rubber game of the series by the score of 3 to 7 in a game featured by heavy hitting.

Burr weakened at times and allowed the visitors to connect freely with his shoots.

Varney at bat and Magoon in the field excelled for the Rochester aggregation. Morando, O'Dowd, Sweetland and Murray performed well for York Beach. Hayes' running catch of O'Dowd's fly in the eighth was a feature. The score:

CHARGED WITH LARCENY

Pennsylvania Militia Colonel is Arraigned in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Gibbons G. Cornwell commander of the Sixth regiment, national guard of Pennsylvania, was arraigned in the Tombs police court here charged with the larceny of three bonds valued at $1000 each from the estate of Alice P. B. Darlington, of Westchester, Pa.

The colonel was not represented by counsel and the case went over until today.

Colonel Cornwell who is a prominent lawyer and business man of Port Chester, Pa., was arrested here last night on the complaint of former commander George R. Dwyer, of the New York national guard who is connected with the stock exchange firm through whom Cornwell is alleged to have disposed of the bonds. He met Cornwell on the street by chance and called a policeman. Colonel Cornwell protested that his arrest was a mistake but he was locked up as a fugitive from justice.

A constable from Westchester arrived here today to take charge of the prisoner, bearing a warrant charging the colonel with the larceny of the bonds.

As a lawyer Colonel Cornwell had supervision of the Darlington estate. After a conference between the prisoner and district attorney Nott, Colonel Cornwell agreed to waive extradition and return to Westchester. Cornwell gave his occupation as a broker and said he was 50 years of age.

IS A LYNN BOY

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 7.—Earl Hubbard, who was arrested in New York last night charged with the larceny of $500 from a Wall street banking firm, is the son of George N. Hubbard a worker in a Lynn shoe factory. The boy is 16 years old.

His father said today that Earl ran away from home on September 25, 1911, after some trouble with other hat it would do the boy no harm to be a little experience away from home. Mr. Hubbard said he made no immediate efforts to locate him.

Counsel has been engaged by Mr. Hubbard to defend Earl and Mr. Hubbard said he expected to go to New York tonight. He said he had received no notification from the New York police of the boy's arrest.

SAILORS APPEAR IN BOUTS

Joe Dilworth Goes to a 10-Round Draw With "Kid" Wilson at Long Beach, Gloucester.

GLoucester, Aug. 7.—In the first boxing exhibition given at Long Beach tonight by the Cape Ann Athletic Club, Billy Davis was knocked out in the second round of a scheduled four round bout by Kid Yeaton of the U. S. S. Dolphin.

In the first round Davis succeeded in knocking the sailor down four times but in the second round the dusky chap landed on Davis for a knockout.

The second bout between Young Tule and Kid Williams of the Dolphin was a draw.

The final and main bout was between Kid Wilson of Gloucester and Joe Dilworth, another sailor from the Dolphin. It went 10 rounds to a draw. Although Dilworth had it on Wilson for weight the "Kid" stood up to him like a stone wall.

PROPOSED NEW LINE

The use of the Hoosac Tunnel for its heavier traffic is being considered by the management of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad, according to a statement published recently in the Boston News Bureau, which says this plan has been decided upon in order to avoid the steep grades of the Boston & Albany route through Pittsfield and Springfield.

The new plan, according to this statement, provides for the utilization of the tracks of the Fitchburg division of the Boston & Maine from its connection with the main line of the New York Central in the Mohawk Valley, and thence over the Hoosac Tunnel route to Shelburne Falls.

The construction of a new line from Shelburne Falls by way of Amherst would, it has been figured out, afford a route to Boston at least 20 miles shorter than the Boston & Albany route, which has some of the steepest grades in this country.

The advantage in grades, afforded by the proposed route would, in the estimation of engineers, equal an additional cut of 20 miles, making the entire saving offered by this plan to a full 40 miles.

Miss Blanche Boynton who has been passing several months in South America, returned home on Tuesday.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO NAVY YARD EMPLOYEES

Expected to Arrive Tomorrow

The members of the marine guard from the yard barracks, naval prison and prison ships who left here in June for Cuba are expected to arrive back at the yard tomorrow from Philadelphia.

Discharged From Prison and the Service

Three naval prisoners sent from New York yard to serve terms in the state prison at Concord were brought here by petty officers from the South-ry on Tuesday and discharged.

Marines From Panama

A detachment of twenty marines from Panama arrived today for the yard barracks. They are all short timers in the service with less than a year to serve. Many of the men have been at the Isthmus for nearly three years and are certainly glad to get back to the states.

Concluded His Visit

Joseph J. Burns of the Buckeye Engine Company of Salem, Ohio, who has been the guest of Harry G. McHenry of the yard central power plant for several days has returned home.

This is Not So Bad

The working force at the yard is now 1050. Of this number over 1000 were on duty today.

Vessel Movements

The Cleveland has arrived at Bremerston, the Ozark at the Washington navy yard, the Prairie at Philadelphia, and the California and South Dakota at Honolulu.

The Helena has sailed from Ichang for Hankow, and the Atlantic fleet including the torpedo flotilla, has left Newport on the cruise for exercises.

The Cleveland has been assigned to duty with the Pacific reserve fleet.

The U. S. S. Saturn has been placed in service at the navy yard, Puget Sound, Wash.

The U. S. S. De Moines has been ordered placed in full commission at the navy yard, Boston, September 1, 1912.

It's Up to Burke

The managers of the several baseball teams of the yard who are out for times say they have heard nothing from manager Burke of the laborers and that if he wants games very bad he knows the yard very well and where to find the managers. Its up to Oscar to hunt them up and introduce his pony battery and their diamond artists before snow flies.

Still Waiting for Laborers

The laborers list at the labor board office is still blank. Employment is waiting those who register and want work.

Two Men and a Boy

Two boiler-makers helpers and one boy were called by the labor board today.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Folsom of New York, are visiting his mother, Mrs. Albion P. Folsom on Richard's avenue.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

For Wednesday and Thursday we present a most excellent program, as follows:

"The Ninth International Red Cross Conference," Edison. This picture depicts the activities and progress of the Red Cross Society in their humane efforts to establish a first aid to the suffering of the world.

"Mary Had a Little Lamb." On the same reel, illustrating the famous poem.

"The Three Valises." Sellig. A decidedly unique and dramatic story of mistaken identity and dual personalities.

Song, "Ragtime Major Sam." Miss Lily Hiron.

"Her Hour of Triumph" is a startling drama, richly mounted, and wonderfully portrayed by the Essanay company.

"The Awakening of Jones" is one of the few real comedy pictures of the year, featuring Mr. John Bunny and Miss Flora Finch.

Song, "To the Strains of the Wedding March." Witmark.

Miss Lily Hiron.

"The Peculiar Nature of the White Man's Burden." A thrilling story of the great Northwest. Sellig.

"Anona's Baptism" is a Pathe Indian story of remarkable strength.

The Herald Hears

That the Tag Day corps are preparing for the day's work on Saturday.

That the campers are finding the nights rather cool.

That jelly fish were never so thick in the river.

That the railroad officials make an inspection of the Boston & Maine property here today.

That the tickets for the Concord trip and Sunset League game at Concord are on sale.

That the marine band at the navy yard has a few new members.

That the toll bridge at Noble's Island is not the best thing for Portsmouth.

That an auto party from Montreal handed out a surprise to the toll collector a few days ago when they said "We never heard of anything like it before."

That the half holiday for the retail clerks looks good.

That the new beer, a product of the Portsmouth Brewing Company, is nearly ready for the market.

That the fog horn at White Island light has not as yet disturbed the slumbers of anybody in this city.

That the odor from the sewer trap on the corner of Hanover and Vaughan streets is certainly strong.

That more tenements are to be erected near the Baker Leather Company on Hanover street.

That the work on the foundation has already begun.

That the Hebrews take possession of the Methodist Episcopal church next month.

That the sneak thief appears to be resting.

That the Coming of Columbus is making a big hit at Music Hall.

That the pictures are the best seen here in many days.

That the P. A. C. is talking up its annual outing.

That Dover is using gas tar on its streets to keep down the dust.

That it is working most satisfactorily.

That there was some class to the Speed Club at Hampton Beach on Tuesday.

That we have yet to learn who claims the championship in the Twilight League.

That the Socialists have invaded Newcastle.

That the work performed by the children at the playgrounds is astonishing.

That beef has taken another jump in price.

That it was never so high since the Civil War.

That while the burglars are giving a rest here they are quite busy at Dover.

That the Central Labor Union of Concord has a big bid at Contonook River Park on Labor day.

That Hon. Charles Everett Newlin of Indianapolis, the great temperance speaker, is working in this state.

That the Veteran Firemen's Association of this city is making preparations for the trip to Chelsea.

That they believe the handout Eureka will bring back a piece of prize money.

That somebody has started the mowers on the city hall lawn.

That it certainly needed the same.

That the hay crop there will not be as abundant as in past years.

That the firemen did a good job this morning in checking the blaze on Bates street.

That the fire certainly looked bad in the start.

That a little hustling means a special train for Concord on Saturday.

That primary declarations are coming in fast from all over the state.

That the Democrats were busy at Hampton on Tuesday.

That it was the best attendance of the party in years.

TO SAVE OLD FORT

Want Reservation of Fort McHenry Preserved

The House passed yesterday a bill reserving as a government reservation and national museum, the historic old Fort McHenry, outside Baltimore.

Patriotic societies and organizations throughout the country favored the legislation. The bill has already passed the senate and it now goes to the president.

The reservation would be placed under the jurisdiction of the secretary of war.

LURE OF COCOS ISLAND

Captain of Bark Hesper Has "Original Map" to Find Treasure

ABERDEEN, Wash., Aug. 7.—The bark Hesper, Captain Frederick Hackett, cleared yesterday from this port, ostensibly to carry 8000 feet of lumber to Antofagasta, Chile, but in reality to go to Cocos Island, the lure of fortune hunters for more than a score of years.

Captain Hackett said he had the only original map of the island, showing the burial place of money, jewels, and other treasure valued at many millions of dollars.

Hackett said he obtained the secret from one of the men who helped bury the treasure. Two other expeditions, one headed by Miss Genevieve Davis, an English woman, and the other Mlle. Mathilde Durand, a French woman, also equipped with what they say are original maps, are on their way to the island.
